

Summary of JPAC Honors Ceremonies

1. JPAC conducted 39 Arrival ceremonies to honor the repatriation of remains between October 22, 2004, and April 26, 2013, when the ceremony was revised to be held as an Honors ceremony.
 2. The ceremonies honored 128 sets of actual remains believed to be missing U.S. service members.
 3. 80 sets of those remains were eventually identified. Please note that this does not necessarily mean that the remains of 80 different service members were identified. Some sets of remains were identified as fragments associated with other active cases and were consolidated during the identification process.
 4. 34 sets of remains are still active cases in the identification process.
 5. 12 sets of remains were later determined not to be U.S. service members (10 sets were not human remains; 1 set was identified as a Japanese national; 1 set is still undetermined).
 6. Two sets of remains are in an inactive hold status because there was insufficient evidence to make one of the determinations noted above.
 7. The last page of the attached spreadsheet contains a data key explaining the categories.

JPAC HOSTS ARRIVAL CEREMONY FOR AMERICA'S HEROES APRIL 26
Ceremony honors unaccounted-for Americans from World War II and Vietnam War

JOINT BASE PEARL HARBOR-HICKAM, Hawaii (April 23; 2013) – The U.S. Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command hosts an Arrival Ceremony Friday at 9 a.m. in Hangar 19, to honor fallen U.S. Servicemembers whose identities remain unknown.

An honor detail comprised of joint military members will escort three flag-draped transfer cases from a U.S. military plane to JPAC's Central Identification Laboratory for analyses.

The remains receiving full military honors represent losses associated with World War II and the Vietnam War are from recent JPAC recovery activities in Saipan, Vietnam and Laos.

Once the transfer cases arrive at JPAC's laboratory, the forensic process of identifying the individuals will begin. If and when identifications are established, the names will be announced following the next-of-kin notification.

Media interested in attending the ceremony must contact JPAC Public Affairs before noon April 22 to receive instructions for base access. All media will be escorted.

Falling directly under the U.S. Pacific Command and employing more than 500 joint military and civilian personnel, JPAC continues its search for the fullest possible accounting of Americans still unaccounted for from past conflicts.

The ultimate goal of JPAC, and of the agencies involved in returning America's heroes home, is to conduct global search, recovery, and laboratory operations in order to support the Department of Defense's personnel accounting efforts.

The CG and I have had several discussion reference our Arrival Ceremonies and given the fact that these are not in the truest sense of the word "arrival" ceremonies, he has directed that all future such events will be known as an Honors Ceremony. Just a change in the name, everything else remains the same.

ALCON,

I am sending this correspondence in reference to the rescheduling of the Tentative 29 August 2013 Honors Ceremony. I am currently tracking that we still have only one Transfer Case to Honor from Alaska. Rescheduling for a date of 27 September 2013 will allow us to maximize use of our internal (JPAC ONLY) and external manpower (PACOM, PACFLT, MARFORPAC, PACAF, USARPAC) and resources, with the following missions, possibly returning with human remains to pay Honors to.

MSN	MSN DATES
13-4VM	2 AUG-4 SEP 13	Recovered Osseous
Material, awaiting completion of FFR/JFR to confirm U.S.		Remains
13-4EU	5 AUG-18 SEP 13	Recovered life
